CHINESE TONG WAR HAS REACHED NORTHWEST

MINNEAPOLIS LAUNDRYMAN

SHOT IN SHOP

DURING MOMENT OF CONSCIOUSNESS HE GIVES CLUE TO POLICE

MILL CITY POLICE ROUND UP A DOZEN CHINAMEN AND QUESTION THEM

(By United Press)
Minneapolis, Oct. 31.—The Chinese tong war reached the Northwest today.

Police were on the alert for reprisals following the shooting last night of Wong Si Wing, a laundryman.

The Chinese was shot twice as he was working in his shop late at night. Four shots were fired, but only two took effect.

Wong Si Wing was shot just an hour after Gee Ling, a member of the opposing tong, was killed in a doorway down in New York. Gee died almost instantly. Wong was still alive today, one bullet imbedded in his liver, the other in his chest.

During a moment of consciousness Wong gave police a clue to his attackers. He said he believed the man was Tom Suey. He was not sure.

Police rounded up a dozen Chinese and questioned them. When the Chinese were alone they talked wildly among themselves, but when a white man was present they were silent.

With typical Oriental secretiveness they denied any aid to authorities.

A woman passing the laundry heard four shots in rapid succession. She saw a slinking figure slipping away in the darkness. The figure vanished by the time police arrived.

TAX PUBLICITY PROVISION OF NEW REVENUE MEASURE

WILL BE ATTACKED AS UNCONSTITUTIONAL IN SUIT STARTED

CLAIMED IT VIOLATES INDIVIDUAL RIGHTS GUARANTEED BY CONSTITUTION

(By United Press)
Washington, Oct. 31.—The tax publicity provision of the new revenue law will be attacked as unconstitutional in a suit to be filed in the court here, according to information reaching officials today.

A Boston attorney, representing private interests, is here, it is reported, with a petition, shortly to be submitted asking an injunction restraining Secretary of the Treasury Mellon and Internal Revenue Commissioner Blair from continuing to permit public inspection of tax records.

The suit will be based on the contention that the publicity provision violates individual rights guaranteed by the Constitution, attacking the law from a different angle than the suit filed and rejected in Cleveland yesterday.

The Cleveland suit sought to prevent the internal revenue collector there from making returns public on the ground that it was a "personal" injury to taxpayers.

The Boston attorney has not yet come into the open here with his plans, but both the treasury and justice departments officials said they had knowledge of the impending action.

Attorney-General Stone will be called on to defend the treasury department if the suit is filed.

SELECTION OF NEW SECRETARY OF AGRICULTURE CONSIDERED

TEN NAMES ALREADY PROPOSED FOR THE CABINET POST

(By United Press)
Chicago, Oct. 31.—President Coolidge today requested the American Farm Bureau federation to express a choice for a new secretary of agriculture to succeed Henry C. Wallace, federation headquarters announced.

In a telegram to O. L. Bradfute, national president of the federation, Mr. Coolidge said:

"Please get in touch with your state organizations and let me have your suggestion for a secretary of agriculture."

Bradfute immediately dispatched telegrams to 46 state farm bureau heads asking a choice from a list of men mentioned prominently for the cabinet post.

Among them are Frank O. Lowden, John Lee Coulter, Col. C. H. March, A. W. Gilbert, H. M. Gore, L. J. Taber, Samuel Adams, J. W. Cloverdale, J. R. Howard and M. D. Lincoln.

Bradfute said it would require two days before he could make recommendations to the president.

TETRA-ETHYL LEAD GASOLINE SEEMS DANGEROUS

NEW YORK AND NEW JERSEY PROHIBITS ITS SALE

PLANT IN BAYWAY, N. J., CLOSED AS INVESTIGATION CONTINUES

(By United Press)
New York, Oct. 31.—Although the Standard Oil company denied that tetra-ethyl lead when mixed with gasoline is dangerous, other states today were expected to follow the lead of New York and New Jersey in prohibiting the sale of gasoline mixed with tetra-ethyl lead, manufacture of which has caused the death of five men and partial insanity of 32 others.

The board of health of New York barred gasoline melted with the lead as a public menace, and similar action was taken in New Jersey.

The Standard Oil Company admitted the danger of the gas before 49 employees were exposed to it at the Bayway, N. J., plant, which resulted in five deaths.

The plant remained closed as an investigation of the tragedy continued today.

Build $16,000,000 Road

(By United Press)
Port Arthur, Ont., Oct. 31.—Contracts for construction of 400 miles of road stretching from Port Arthur to Winnipeg have been let at an approximate cost of $16,000,000, according to an announcement by A. W. Campbell, Dominion Highway Commissioner. The new road will form the last link in the 3,000-mile trans-Canada highway running from Halifax to Vancouver.

Teachers of City are Guests of Rotary Club at Halloween Party

Teachers of the city were guests of the Rotary club at the Ramsford hotel last night and the spirit of Halloween entered into the entertainment offered. True, the Rotarians were hosts, but the teachers also assisted in the entertainment with various stunts which evoked laughter and applause.

The tables were splendidly decorated. A high school orchestra played and won many plaudits. The diners present numbered 140 or more. Teachers were seated in groups, place cards designating the various schools represented.

The introductory number was a song carrying original verses welcoming the teachers and care was taken that no one's name was omitted. The menu served was in the Ramsford's finest style and gave general satisfaction. Serving of the courses was punctuated by the reading of various funny telegrams, all hitting somebody or something.

Halloween headgear was worn by the diners, and various noisemakers added to the hilarity of the evening. President Harry Gemmell presided and in his introductory address paid a heartfelt tribute to the teachers and recounted the good they do and expressed the interest the Rotarians feel in their work.

The Whittier sextet gave a song. It was without vocalization and required a lip reader to fathom its contents.

Miss Cora Rickard, music supervisor of the schools, gave two splendid solos.

Miss Edna Anderson of the Lowell gave a reading.

The Riverside trio, piano and two Hallowe'en instruments, played old time melodies.

Bon McClintock, of Minneapolis, former Rotary governor of this district, welcomed the teachers. He recounted his school experiences, mentioning that at one time he was a youthful member of the school board of Owatonna. The teachers were engaged in noble work, training the youth of America for citizenship, said the speaker.

Mr. McClintock verged into the poetic as he told of the glories of the month of October in the Brainerd Lake Region, and read an original poem which aimed to reflect the tone color of the woods at this season.

In closing, he mentioned that the memory of one's teacher is something never effaced, for her pleasant ways, her kindly smile, her helpfulness, her firm correction, is indelibly impressed on the mind of a pupil.

The Lincoln Lassies, and there was a group of them, sang original verses set to popular music and each verse was loaded with hits.

At the conclusion came the Magician Dave Swift, a Minneapolis Rotarian, who was almost uncanny in the many tricks he evolved right under the very eyes of his spectators. For instance, he had a card torn to bits, the bits placed in a casket and held by a spectator, the identity of the card being kept secret and one section of the card held by another spectator. Then he cracked an egg and a Rotarian drew from its interior the card in question, now repaired with the exception of the torn piece held by a diner. The casket when opened was found to be empty.

He had tricks galore and brought with him a real Hallowe'en ghostly atmosphere when his trick petrified hand answered various questions by rapping on a board. Some of the responses made were exact truth and caused real shivers of surprise.

DOUBTFUL DAKOTAS DOUBLY DOUBTFUL IN THIS CAMPAIGN

INDEPENDENT MOVEMENT IN SOUTH DAKOTA OLD ENOUGH TO HAVE TOOTHACHE

SITUATION IN NORTH AND SOUTH DAKOTA IS ANALYZED

(By United Press)
St. Paul, Oct. 31.—The doubtful Dakotas are doubly doubtful politically this year.

The independent movement in South Dakota is just old enough to be having its first toothache.

On the Dakota ballots there are republicans on the democratic side, democrats on the republican side, Nonpartisan leaguers on every side, and anti-leaguers in between.

South Dakota—The chief troubles of the independents are tied up in the senatorial race, where eight candidates are in the field.

The independent movement first appeared in South Dakota as the Nonpartisan League ingrown from North Dakota. Later it became the farmer-labor party with legal recognition. Division came this year when Tom Ayres got the farmer-labor senatorial nomination and Mark P. Bates, former power in the party, filed in protest. It started a stampede. Four others hopped on as independents, indicating further division. William H. McMaster of gasoline price fame is the republican nominee for senator and U. S. G. Cherry of Sioux Falls is his democratic opponent. South Dakota in the past has gone republican.

North Dakota—The principal political fight here is a repetition of the fight of every election—for or against the Nonpartisan League—but the participants seem to be a little more mixed up than usual.

Four sets of presidential electors are on the ballot for Coolidge, Davis, LaFollette and William Z. Foster.

Analysis of the fight here down to a two or three-sided battle is like trying to mix oil and water.

The Nonpartisans have brought out candidates for Congress in some districts and in others have endorsed candidates of the two old parties.

THE CAMPAIGN DAY BY DAY

Discussion in the presidential campaign centered today around the sensational turn of affairs in New York city caused by the city trades and labor council—credited with one-fifth of the strength of the American Federation of Labor—announcing withdrawal of its support of La Follette and swinging its endorsement to John W. Davis.

While politicians discussed the probable effect of this switch upon the outcome in New York city and upon the labor vote throughout the country, the candidates continued their scheduled tours.

Davis, in a statement issued at New York Democratic headquarters, declared the endorsement switch meant a "break" against the Republican "administration" and welcomed the votes of other "real progressives." Davis delivered a speech last night in a small Long Island town and will continue his campaign with further speeches in New York city tonight.

LABOR VOTE IN NEW YORK CLAIMED SWITCHED TO DAVIS

(By United Press)
New York, Oct. 31.—Political prognosticators as to the disposition of New York's ominous 45 electoral votes were thrown into confusion today by the sensational turn in the campaign brought about when the New York City labor council switched its endorsement from La Follette to Davis.

Friends of the Democratic nominee were confident that the move will swing the entire vote of the labor council—about 700,000 according to its own estimates, to Davis.

SWITCH WAS MATTER OF CONSCIENCE, STATED

Washington, Oct. 31.—Action of the Central Trades and Labor council of Greater New York in rescinding its endorsement of Senator La Follette in favor of John W. Davis is a "matter for their own conscience," Frank Morrison, secretary of the American Federation of Labor, said before the senate campaign fund investigating committee today.

"The central body endorsed the position taken by the A. F. of L. at Atlantic City, which was favorable to Senator La Follette," Morrison said. "That was done voluntarily. We are not going to say anything about their rescinding in favor of Davis. That is a matter for their own consciences."

EXAMINE THE WORK OF AMERICAN FEDERATION LABOR

IN ITS ACTIVITIES IN BEHALF OF LA FOLLETTE AND WHEELER

DISCLOSURES MADE FROM TESTIMONY OF FRANK MORRISON

(By United Press)
Washington, Oct. 31.—The American Federation of Labor's activities in behalf of the LaFollette-Wheeler ticket were subjected to an intensive examination by counsel for the republican national committee before the senate committee today.

Disclosures from the testimony of Frank Morrison, secretary of the American Federation of Labor, included:

1. The federation had collected $23,736 up to date for the independent candidates' treasury.

2. No poll of the unions comprising the federation was taken before the body's endorsement of the independent ticket.

3. No coercion of any kind is being applied to laboring men to secure their vote for LaFollette.

Joseph H. Grundy of Philadelphia testified that $800 had already been raised for the republican treasury in Pennsylvania and collections were continuing.

CLAIM THAT G. O. P. CANDIDATES WILL BE ELECTED

W. W. SIVRIGHT, REPUBLICAN STATE CHAIRMAN, EXPRESSES OPINION

HIS IS FIRST PRE-ELECTION PREDICTION BY CAMPAIGN MANAGER IN STATE

(By United Press)
St. Paul, Oct. 31.—"The candidates of the republican party will be elected Tuesday," W. W. Sivright, state chairman, declared today.

His was the first pre-election prediction by a campaign manager in Minnesota.

"I am convinced from observation and from the latest check with each county in the state that this result will be achieved, as the people have had greater opportunity to study the issues, they are satisfied with the accomplishments of President Coolidge and the republican congress. Many know the republican party has controlled the internal affairs of Minnesota for many years and that the business-like administration of the great departments of state and the system of taxation which has turned large revenues from the gross earnings of railroads, inheritances and special industries must be credited to the republican party. The actual accomplishments of the republican party, both in and out of the state, have created and are creating an overwhelming sentiment in favor of its candidates, all of whom have been tried and found faithful."

Borah declared that the committee would "carefully and impartially weigh the evidence and determine what it is worth."

Senator Borah and Senator Shipstead who sat on the committee during the hearing will depart for Washington late today.

LABOR REGIME OF ENGLAND TO RETAIN OFFICE

WISHES TO INVESTIGATE AUTHENTICITY OF THE RUSSIAN LETTER

WAS ONE CAUSE OF LABOR'S OVERWHELMING DEFEAT AT POLLS

(By United Press)
London, Oct. 31.—The labor government today decided to retain office until it has investigated the authenticity of the Zinoviev letter, one of the causes of its overwhelming defeat at the polls.

The cabinet appointed a committee to investigate the source of the subversive document so that Ramsey MacDonald and his colleagues can leave a clear record in the matter. The committee will start work on the question and the government will probably resign November 7.

Puffing his customary cherrywood pipe, Stanley Baldwin, who will become prime minister when MacDonald resigns, visited conservative headquarters today and congratulated his staff.

The standing in the general election returns at 2 p. m. was:

Conservatives—seats won 401, net gain 153.

Labour—seats won 154, net loss 42.

Liberals—seats won 40, net loss 111.

Independents—seats won 4, net loss 4.

Constitutionalists—seats won 3, net gain 3.

Communists—seats won 1, net gain 1.

ALLEGED ROBBERY IS BEING PROBED

POLICE INVESTIGATE STORY OF ROBBERY OF ST. PAUL JEWELRY STORE

BOY IN CHARGE OF COHEN CO. PLACE IS BEING QUESTIONED

(By United Press)
St. Paul, Oct. 31.—The Cohen loan company and jewelry store was robbed of an unknown amount today under what police termed mysterious circumstances. Theodore Ginsberg, 18, said he was in the store alone when two men entered, bound him, and gagged him and looted the store of diamonds and jewelry.

Young Ginsberg was taken before Chief of Police Murnane and severely questioned.

He said he had just opened the store and was placing diamonds in the window from the safe when the men entered. He believed there were two more men outside the store and a fifth at the wheel of a large car in front. After the bandits had looted the store they ordered him to lie still for 20 minutes, Ginsberg said.

As soon as the bandits left he freed himself and called his brother who came at once to the store. Police checked up the time and according to the story the brother would have to have driven three miles in something less than a minute through traffic to get there. Ginsberg's brother called the insurance company before police were notified.

Police also found that the gag alleged to have been used had knots in only one end and that the bonds gave no evidence of moisture from his mouth. The bonds he said they used were flimsy.

Chief Murnane started a probe of the whole affair. Ginsberg and his associates variously estimated the loot at $2,000 to $20,000.

DEMOCRATIC CAMPAIGN ADVERTISING

CLAIMED MUCH OF IT CARRIES NO SIGNATURE OF NATIONAL COMMITTEE

G. B. BAKER ON STAND IN EXAMINATION CONDUCTED IN CHICAGO

(By United Press)
Chicago, Oct. 31.—Democrats have spent large sums of money in advertising that does not carry the signature of the democratic national committee, G. B. Baker, director of publicity for the republican national committee, testified at the senate campaign slush fund hearing today.

Baker exhibited a full page advertisement from a woman's magazine which he said cost $7,600 per issue.

Baker declared that all direct advertising by the republican committee carried the republican signature.

Attorney Samuel Untermyer, representing Senator LaFollette, cross-examined Baker in an effort to determine what part the republican committee played in the independent advertising campaign being carried out by republican organizations not identified with the national committee.

CHICAGO PHASE OF INVESTIGATIONS ADJOURNS

Chicago, Oct. 31.—The Chicago phase of the senate campaign slush fund inquiry adjourned at noon today, subject to call, probably in Washington, after election.

Nearly a dozen witnesses were heard here, including William M. Butler, chairman of the republican national committee, and other high republican officials; J. N. Nelson, chairman of the LaFollette-Wheeler movement, and others who played a part in the republican and independent campaigns.

"No inferences should be drawn out of what has appeared here that would reflect on either party," Senator Borah, chairman of the senate committee, said. Weymouth Kirkland, attorney for the republicans, declared that no evidence had been submitted here to substantiate the "slush fund" charges made against the republicans by Frank P. Walsh, attorney for Senator LaFollette.

"We don't know about that," snapped Samuel Untermyer, representing LaFollette in the absence of Walsh.

Borah declared that the committee would "carefully and impartially weigh the evidence and determine what it is worth."

His was the first pre-election prediction by a campaign manager in Minnesota.

"I am convinced from observation and from the latest check with each county in the state that this result will be achieved, as the people have had greater opportunity to study the issues, they are satisfied with the accomplishments of President Coolidge and the republican congress. Many know the republican party has controlled the internal affairs of Minnesota for many years and that the business-like administration of the great departments of state and the system of taxation which has turned large revenues from the gross earnings of railroads, inheritances and special industries must be credited to the republican party. The actual accomplishments of the republican party, both in and out of the state, have created and are creating an overwhelming sentiment in favor of its candidates, all of whom have been tried and found faithful."

stead who sat on the committee during the hearing will depart for Washington late today.

LABOR REGIME OF ENGLAND TO RETAIN OFFICE

WISHES TO INVESTIGATE AUTHENTICITY OF THE RUSSIAN LETTER

WAS ONE CAUSE OF LABOR'S OVERWHELMING DEFEAT AT POLLS

(By United Press)
London, Oct. 31.—The labor government today decided to retain office until it has investigated the authenticity of the Zinoviev letter, one of the causes of its overwhelming defeat at the polls.

The cabinet appointed a committee to investigate the source of the subversive document so that Ramsey MacDonald and his colleagues can leave a clear record in the matter.

The committee will start work on the question and the government will probably resign November 7.

Putting his customary cherrywood pipe, Stanley Baldwin, who will become prime minister when MacDonald resigns, visited conservative headquarters today and congratulated his staff.

The standing in the general election returns at 2 p. m. was:

Conservatives—seats won 401, net gain 153.

Labour—seats won 154, net loss 42.

Liberals—seats won 40, net loss 111.

Independents—seats won 4, net loss 4.

Constitutionalists—seats won 3, net gain 3.

Communists—seats won 1, net gain 1.

ALLEGED ROBBERY IS BEING PROBED

POLICE INVESTIGATE STORY OF ROBBERY OF ST. PAUL JEWELRY STORE

BOY IN CHARGE OF COHEN CO. PLACE IS BEING QUESTIONED

(By United Press)
St. Paul, Oct. 31.—The Cohen loan company and jewelry store was robbed of an unknown amount today under what police termed mysterious circumstances. Theodore Ginsberg, 18, said he was in the store alone when two men entered, bound him, and gagged him and looted the store of diamonds and jewelry.

Young Ginsberg was taken before Chief of Police Murnane and severely questioned.

He said he had just opened the store and was placing diamonds in the window from the safe when the men entered. He believed there were two more men outside the store and a fifth at the wheel of a large car in front. After the bandits had looted the store they ordered him to lie still for 20 minutes, Ginsberg said.

As soon as the bandits left he freed himself and called his brother who came at once to the store. Police checked up the time and according to the story the brother would have to have driven three miles in something less than a minute through traffic to get there. Ginsberg's brother called the insurance company before police were notified.

Police also found that the gag alleged to have been used had knots in only one end and that the bonds gave no evidence of moisture from his mouth. The bonds he said they used were flimsy.

Chief Murnane started a probe of the whole affair. Ginsberg and his associates variously estimated the loot at $2,000 to $20,000.

JILTED AFTER

COAT FOR GIRL

WOOPER SUES TO GET BACK $200

GIRL WHEN ASKED TO RETURN LOAN SAID, "TRY AND GET IT"

St. Paul, Oct. 31.—Charging his fiancée with jilting him and then defying him to "try and get" $200 he loaned her to buy a fur coat, Orville J. Tracy today filed suit to collect that amount from Rose Kleffman.

The suit was filed in district court by Frank E. McAllister, attorney for Mr. Tracy.

Prior to October, 1923, the complaint alleges, Mr. Tracy and the defendant, who now is the wife of another man, became acquainted and subsequently Mr. Tracy called upon her, paid court and entertained her at theatres, took her out to lunches, dinners and suppers, lavished gifts upon her and "thought she comported herself in all ways as the fiancée of the plaintiff."

Oct. 1, 1923, Mr. Tracy charges, showing great love and affection for his fiancée, he asked her to become Mrs. Tracy and she acquiesced and they agreed that the wedding should be set for Christmas time.

Mr. Tracy alleges he often referred to the defendant in the presence of others as his future wife and it was generally understood they were to be married.

"The nuptial day had been set," the complaint avers, and preparations had been entered into, the betrothal announced to the world and naught remained but the execution of the aforesaid mutual promise and covenant to marry. The plaintiff's life was happy and his future was bright.

Based on her promise to marry him, Mr. Tracy charges, he advanced $200 as a loan for the purchase of a fur coat Oct. 1, 1923.

Mr. Tracy alleges he frequently insisted the marriage be consummated, but the defendant "wilfully, wantonly and maliciously" refused to marry him.

After the breach, Mr. Tracy charges, he demanded the return of the $200 he loaned his fiancée for her fur coat, "without taking cognizance of other and large advances in the form of gifts, and she retorted by saying, "try and get it."

HEINZ COMPANY
PICKLING PLANS

Cucumber Acreage for 1925 to be Largely Increased in County

PAST SEASON UNFAVORABLE

November Plowing Recommended to Get Fields in Shape

The H. J. Heinz Company is already making its plans for its 1925 cucumber acreage among farmers in Crow Wing county, and all who expect to make contracts for next year are asked to see County Agent E. G. Roth in the very near future.

The 1924 season was the first year that the Heinz company attempted cucumber acreage in this section, and the season was so unfavorable to cucumber growing that many farmers became discouraged and at first decided that they would not attempt to grow the crop again. Many have however, reconsidered this hasty decision, and will make contracts again for next year.

These farmers have decided that the past season did not give cucumber raising in this county a fair trial. They feel that the crop can be raised successfully here and that it should be grown over a period of several seasons before deciding for or against it.

The Heinz company is sending out advice to its growers, recommending that they will have better soil conditions if they plow their ground after November 15th, and applying manures after the plowing, when the ground is frozen for the winter.

None of the farmers who contracted for growing cucumbers during the past season, had an opportunity to properly prepare the seed bed, because the contracts were made in the late spring, and the seed bed is best prepared in the fall.

All contractors in the Brainerd district are very well satisfied with the treatment accorded them by the Heinz company, who are said to have more than lived up to the terms of the agreement made with the growers. It is hoped that an even greater acreage may be contracted for the coming year than was planted to cucumbers the past season.

TALL CEDARS PARTY TONIGHT

Hallowe'en Entertainment at Masonic Hall Given This Evening

J. F. ELKINS HEAD COMMITTEE

Many Surprises Are in Store For The Many Merry-makers

Lake Region Forest, Tall Cedars of Lebanon, of Brainerd, is holding its Hallowe'en party this evening at the Masonic hall. Invitations have been sent out to all members of the local forest and to all candidates who expect to join the forest at the November ceremonial.

The committee in charge of this social function has been working hard to make it a big success. Headed by J. F. Elkins as general chairman, sub-committees have taken care of every detail. The Masonic parlors have been specially decorated for the occasion. The refreshment committee promises to live up to Tall Cedar requirements in this important phase of the evening's program.

The entertainment committee states that it has a number of surprises in store for the merry-makers, for Hallowe'en would not be complete without its full quota of stunts that go with such an occasion.

The dance committee has arranged for excellent music, the most important part of such a program. This dance will be a masquerade, and members are going to some lengths to provide costumes. Dancing will begin at nine o'clock, instead of 9:30 as was announced on the invitation. The dancers will unmask at ten o'clock.

There will be cards and other forms of entertainment for those who do not care to dance, and for those who do not intend to mask, as only masked couples will be permitted to dance before ten o'clock. After that the floor will be open to all of the guests.

This is the first social function of the local forest this season, and others are scheduled to come in rapid succession. A large class is being gathered in for the coming ceremonial, to be held early next month.

There was no clue save Wong's accusation of Tom Suey. Police are looking for him, but so far have found no Chinese who would admit knowledge of such a man.

Wong was a member of the On Leong tong. Suey is supposed to be an agent of the Hip Sing tong.

FORTNIGHT'S TRUCE IN THE TONG WAR

New York, Oct. 31.—A fortnight's truce in the tong war began today.

The order for cessation of hostilities between the On Leong and Hip Sing tongs is effective throughout the country wherever East meets East.

To Consul-General Ziang Ling Chang belongs the credit for the lull in the murderous warfare. He brought leaders of the warring factions together.

TOM SUEY, ALLEGED ASSAILANT, IS ARRESTED

Minneapolis, Oct. 31.—Tom Suey, accused by Wong Si Wing as the man who shot him in his laundry late last night, was arrested by police at noon today. His arrest came after leaders of both the On Leong and Hip Sing tongs declared they had nothing to do with Suey and would aid in his capture. Wing was seriously wounded but may live. Police are seeking the motive.

Suey was taken to the hospital and identified by Wong. He was taken in a rooming house by detectives, where it is declared he was hidden by a private detective who looks after the Hop Sing interests in the Twin Cities.

Motion For Separate Trial For Elsie Sweetin Is Denied

Mt. Vernon, Ill., Oct. 31.—Elsie Sweetin's motion for a separate trial for the arsenic murder of her husband and Anna Hight, which she and Lawrence M. Hight, former Methodist pastor of Ina village, have confessed, today was denied by Judge J. C. Kern in circuit court here. Judge Kern set the trial of the man and woman who killed their spouses to make way for their own love for November 17.

PRETTY CHRISTMAS DOLLS

Little People Cluster Around Michael Co. Windows Viewing Christmas Display

The little people are having a great time viewing the H. F. Michael Company's windows. These windows contain an advance showing of Christmas dolls. They are beautifully arranged and even the grown-ups stop to see them.

The H. F. Michael Company explains that dolls are the first of the Christmas goods purchased, as mothers like to have them early and get them dressed at convenient moments. All of this reminds one that there are but 45 shopping days remaining until Christmas.

50 ADDITIONAL FLAGS RECEIVED

METAL SOCKET SET IN CURB

A. A. Englund, Chairman, Says Brainerd People Have Ordered 200 Flags This Season

A. A. Englund, chairman of the committee from the American Legion in charge of the movement to install permanent patriotic decorations in Brainerd, announces that fifty additional American flags have been received and will be installed this week, if possible.

These flags are equipped with a long pole so that they can be half-masted if occasion demands. A metal socket is set in the curb, and the flag pole can be inserted in this socket on a moment's notice. This gives owners throughout the city a quick method of displaying the national flag when patriotic decorations are desired.

Mr. Englund states that about two hundred of these flags have been ordered by Brainerd people this season. Most of them have been installed for some time, in the business district. The fifty just received will be taken up in the business district downtown and in Northeast Brainerd, and in the residence section.

The next occasion that these flags will be used for decorative purposes is Armistice Day, November 11th, and the local Legion post asks that all who have the flags display them on that day.

St. Paul's Church

Tomorrow, Saturday, being All Saints Day, there will be a celebration of the holy communion at 10 a. m. in the above church. "This is one of the great festivals of the church, so I would earnestly urge every communicant to make an effort to be present," said W. M. Walton, rector of the church.

Kappa Delphian Chapter

The Kappa Delphian chapter meets Saturday at 2:30 P. M. at the home of Mrs. A. J. Hayes, 523 Holly St. The subject will be "The Social Life of Egypt." The leader is Mrs. W. C. Rasch.

"RADIO" DANCE OF THE LEGION

Committee in Charge of Unique Affair is Gerald McGivern and Ambrose McGarry

PROMISE ENJOYABLE EVENING

Hedstrom Orchestra Plays 3 Hours, Then Radio Furnishes the Music

The local post of the American Legion will give a "Radio" dance at Elks hall on Tuesday evening, November 4th.

The committee in charge of this unique affair is composed of Gerald McGivern and Ambrose McGarry. This committee promises that everyone attending the dance will have a most enjoyable evening, for this affair is planned to surpass any former efforts made by the Legion, and that organization has staged some very successful dances in the past.

Hedstrom's orchestra will furnish the music from 9 o'clock until midnight, and for one hour after that the merry-makers will dance to music furnished by radio.

The committee further announces that complete election returns will be received until one o'clock at the dance, so that no one need miss this interesting and important phase of election day.

On Monday evening, November 10th, the American Legion will give an Armistice Day dance at Elks hall, with dancing from 9 until 1 o'clock. The Northwest Syncopators will furnish the music and the local post will furnish streamers, confetti, balloons and noise makers.

Armistice Day is one of the most important days on the Legion calendar, and the Carl Sydney Hanson post does not propose to let it slip by without properly observing the event. The post promises that everyone attending will have the time of their lives. Refreshments will be served during the evening.

NOTICE

Several street arc lights have been broken due to the practice of boys throwing rocks at these lights and in playing football in the streets.

Inasmuch as considerably property damage is caused in this way, offenders will be prosecuted.

There will also be prosecution of those who maliciously damage property as a Hallowe'en prank and to combat such practice several additional police officers have been placed in service.

ERICK GRAFF,

12712 Acting Chief of Police.

FOLLOWERS OF THE GLEAM

Hold Their Regular Monthly Meeting at the Home of Mrs. E. P. Slipp

The Followers of the Gleam held their regular monthly meeting on Saturday afternoon. The study embraced an introduction to "Ming-Kwong," with different glimpses of the conditions in old China, when "In the land of the shadow of death." From the "Interlude" was noted that in China in 1807, "The people which sat in darkness saw a great light" when the first protestant missionary Robert Morrison, landed in Canton and made an impression on the idolatry of the Chinese Empire, as led by God.

Three centuries earlier the Jesuit Father Valignani, after more than thirty years of missionary effort for China, cried aloud in anguish of spirit, Oh Rock! Oh Rock! when wilt thou open?" His grave, with that of Morrison's, is on the island of Macow, near the southern coast of China.

Mrs. C. H. Long, from "Lamp Lighters," read a short account of the life of Robert Morrison, which narrated difficulties sustained while learning the Chinese language, translating the Bible into Chinese and making a huge dictionary, thus making it more possible for the work of missionaries who followed.

Saturday's program closed with a solo, "Humoresque," by Elizabeth Folsom, accompanied by Margaret Springer. The work period was employed in the making of patch-work for a missionary hospital in China. The social hour followed and closed with refreshments, served by the hostess, Mrs. E. P. Slipp.

COST OF EDUCATION INCREASES

THE cost of education is increasing daily. In fact, it has increased 97 per cent in ten years in Minnesota, according to authoritative figures compiled by State Auditor R. P. Chase.

Summarizing his report, one finds that the state last year raised $57,789,194 for educational purposes. Twenty years ago, in 1903, the amount raised for such educational purposes in Minnesota was $9,291,787, and in 1913, ten years later, the figures rose to $18,035,396.

Here is what contributed to the high costs and what is constantly adding to costs—increased cost of buildings, larger number of pupils, higher salaries to teachers and increased cost of labor and materials are given as some of the reasons why it costs more to educate children.

Other statistics given by State Auditor Chase are of interest. Ten years ago there were 8,943 schoolhouses in the state. Now there are 9,221. Ten years ago the school teachers paid salaries numbered 16,930 and they drew an average salary of $580 for the school year. Now there are 20,841 teachers and they are paid an average salary of $1,215.

The report shows further that of the more than $57,000,000 raised last year, $35,210,731 were collected by local special school taxes. Summing up the report one finds that schoolhouses are increasing in number, cost of building and maintenance is increasing, teachers' salaries are increasing, number of pupils are increasing. The crowded school situation is one that faces every community.

AN INDIVIDUAL CONTEST

L. B. KINDER, candidate for probate judge, complains that The Review was not fair last week in stating that he participated in the Republican delegate convention without stating also that he voted a Farmer-Labor ballot in the primary election.

We certainly do not wish to be unfair to Mr. Kinder. The record, as he gives it, seems to be about like this:

Voted for Magnus Johnson last year (so he informs us).

Participated in the Republican delegate convention this spring.

Voted a Farmer-Labor ballot in the Primaries.

We do not attempt to say where Mr. Kinder will align himself at the General election or afterwards and he did not state, but on the face of his own statement of his political maneuvers we feel that we were not unfair in saying that the probate judge contest does not lie between a Farmer-Labor candidate and a Republican, in spite of the fact that Mr. Kinder received large support from the Farmer-Labor supporters in the primary.

The contest is in fact a personal contest between Mr. Alderman and Mr. Kinder, with all the weight of experience and material judgment in Mr. Alderman's favor.—Pequot Review.

A TELLING POINT

ONE of the telling points brought out by Mayor Arthur E. Nelson of St. Paul, in his address at Deerwood last night, referred to government ownership of railroads.

In June of 1923, said Mayor Nelson, there were 760 odd suburban trains running into the station at St. Paul. One month later there were only about 270 trains running into the station, a difference of nearly 500 trains, taken off in one month's time because of bus competition.

Then he emphasized the growing tonnage hauled by freight trucks which were now operating directly from warehouse to consumer. Then he took cognizance of the epoch-making flights of the ZR-3 across the ocean and the Shenandoah from one coast to the other in America, saying that one person can be carried, for actual expense, from coast to coast for $1.56, and he came to his peroration:

"Who is trying to sell the railways to the American people and why?"

In all his talk, Mayor Nelson indulged in no personalities, showered no abuse. He presented the facts as he found them, and let the audience draw its own conclusions.

MOVIE PICTURE THEORIES

TALL, rugged men were given the preference in selecting the players who portray plainsmen in Emerson Hough's "North of 36," which Irvin Willat is directing in Texas. It is explained that the men who survived the hardships in the history-making days of the west were big, sinewy men.

That may be good movie publicity, but it does not square up with the facts as some men find it. In strenuous, continued hard work, a man of small physique, tough and wiry, has the advantage over a six-footer. In poling a boat, packing over mountain ranges, running with a dog team, an average-sized man generally gives a better account of himself than a giant in height.

Dempsey finds it no hard task to pick off the big fellows. "The bigger they are, the harder they fall," is an old axiom.

INCOME TAX RETURNS PUBLICITY

THE Bemidji Daily Pioneer, like the Brainerd Dispatch, did not publish income tax returns.

The Pioneer gave this explanation: "This paper does not intend to exercise itself over the legality or illegality of publishing income tax returns. The figures have always been available for the government and the strictest examination of the figures are made by the proper officials. The publication of the tax paid would serve no purpose than to create misunderstandings, foster suspicion and provide food for gossip. At the present time a newspaper publishing the reports assumes liability for the act."

A VOTE for a school site is not a vote to issue bonds. It is merely expressing a preference as to where the new high school shall be located when it is built in the future.

DIRIGIBLES seem to float well in a political atmosphere. However, the Shenandoah reported the air was awful choppy when they sailed over Ohio.

OTHER PEOPLES' OPINIONS

HIGH SCHOOL OPINIONS

Editor Dispatch:

It is absurd to think of locating the High School just to please the eye of the tourist a few short summer months, rather than the comfort of our own children, every school day in the year—for years to come. If we consider the tourist, he might visit Lum park, as a great many of them do. We don't care to have him remember Brainerd as the town built for show at the expense of comfort.

Anyway, if you only have one jar or preserves, keep it for the kiddies at home and not set it up for company.

A HOUSEWIFE.

SUGGEST REMEDY

Editor Dispatch:

South Side Parent tries to make a point because his children are sitting in rooms intended for coal bins. Where fault is it? Why did he not rear up long time ago and demand more buildings wherein his children could sit upstairs.

The point to be made by him is not that fairness has been distorted to his disadvantage when the Fill site is indorsed by others, but that a new high school should be built speedily, the old one vacated, and then the South side will have what it most needs. What is most needed is more grade rooms. That is what the Washington building will provide. For that reason the South side will get just what it requires regardless of where the new high school stands. Anyway it goes, you will get back your coal-bins, if that is the need and your most concern.

BLOCK 82.

REPLY TO S. S. PARENT

Editor Dispatch:

Permit me to reply to "South Side Parent" regarding his or her remark. "If you want to be fair can you honestly say that a few blocks, one way or the other, can make much difference to high school pupils. If you want to be fair can you fix a 'center of population' in our city for the future thirty years?"

Yes! Yes! to both questions.

Why is it easier for the Third ward pupils to walk one and one-half miles than it is for First ward pupils to walk one-half mile. How do you get that way? Meet us halfway, won't you, is all Third warders ask; and they leave the new site in the Second ward at that.

If you cannot determine a center for the next thirty years, is it not better to get somewhere near an apparent center than go away from it? Witness the present Washington high. The only thing central about Block 129 (South Sixth street) is that it offers good accommodations to rural students coming from Barrows and Crow Wing. Why not do as well for our own.

NORTH SIDER

TAKE AWAY STIFFNESS

Brainerd Dispatch:

I am a Second Warder. I live equidistant from Blocks 82 and 129. My kids will reach either site with equal effort. A new building on Block 82, although in my ward, will not improve my property. A new building in Block 129, in the business district, will not benefit me financially. It might seem that I could be neutral, or satisfied no matter how the vote goes; but I have a decided preference, determined by what is proper, not even by what is fair.

My view is not "from the south-east corner," as South Side Parent stated. We are not buying pretty houses; in fact, the cheaper these are the better for us. We want suitable ground; ground permitting expansion; ground possible of beautifying; a place away from noise; plenty of air circulation; space for play grounds and athletics; a rolling ground to take away the stiffness. That is Fill Site or Block 82.

The stiffest thing presentable to the public eye is a building in a business district. The moment you decorate such a building, it becomes a misfit. The grounds become a loafing place, not a play ground. If tourist want to see our buildings, let them drive around the town and find them. We are not building to suit tourists; we are building to suit our children.

SECOND WARDER.

SOURCE OF OPPOSITION

Editor Dispatch:

I have been much interested in the proposed amendment known as No. 2 to our city charter. I have felt that it was an excellent amendment and that it should carry. I was surprised to find opposition and I sought to find its source. I was told that much of the source of the opposition was those lawyers who have profited by suits against the city. I investigated and found this to be largely true. I need cite no further proof than the signature of an attorney to a letter in last night's Dispatch in which he opposes the amendment. And he is not the only one.

They are not to be blamed. If they can get one third and one half of the $5,000 to $11,000 damage suits against the city why should they not object to the amendment. If only meritorious cases were taken to the courts for damages there would be no demand for the amendment. Let it be remembered that the amendment was suggested by our patriotic city attorney who has studied the abuses of suing the city. I am informed that he looked into the matter thoroughly and found that other cities had had similar experiences and he then suggested the amendment passed on by the supreme court as being just.

This amendment, if adopted, will not eliminate all suits but, as I understand it, it will stop many suits which have resulted in higher taxes because our sympathetic juries have thought the city treasury could easily stand it. I have no fears of our city council permitting a just claim to go unattended to. I believe the majority will vote for Amendment No. 2. Citizen and Tax Payer.

Against Local Charter Amendment No. 2

Editor Dispatch:

Concerning proposed charter amendment number two under which notice must first be given to the city before the city becomes liable for injuries in streets and sidewalks.

If the words "fair play" have a real meaning to the citizens of Brainerd, they will see to it that this measure is defeated on Nov. 4th. If the city or the city officials and employees are guilty of negligence in maintaining our streets is there any more reason to absolve the city of its wrong than it would be to do the same thing to a railroad company, or any other corporation? It is because I and many of my friends with whom I have talked about this see nothing but injustice in the amendment, that this is written. The city has never paid an overwhelming amount in a damage suit, and has never paid any verdict where the citizens as a whole did not heartily agree that the victim of the city's negligence was entitled to be recompensed.

Amendment number two should be voted down.

FAIR PLAY.

RUMOR IS FALSE

Washington Building Has Not Been Condemned, But is in Good Shape

A rumor has been heard much on the street to the effect that the Washington school has been condemned and that this is the reason for the desire to build a new high school. As this is of no advantage to either side in the controversy, and as it is detrimental to the interests of all, the Dispatch made inquiry as to the facts.

It is learned that the statement has no foundation whatever. The board has recently spent much money repairing the building to meet present demands and so that it may be used as a grade building for which it can be easily adapted and for which there is a demand even when the new high school shall be completed.

According to the school official consulted, the Washington building is overcrowded and basement rooms are used which should not be used just as there are in other wards and the new high school is designed to give the necessary relief. All will be gratified to know that the building has been made as safe as possible since the school board added new stairways and improved the old stairways.

Brainerd Electric Co. Making Arrangements to Receive President's Address

23 STATIONS TO BROADCAST

Loud Speaker Will be Used at Brainerd Electric Co. Store

Brainerd citizens will be given an opportunity to hear President Coolidge speak on next Monday evening, through the courtesy of the Brainerd Electric Company. This company is arranging to receive the president's address by radio. A large number can be accommodated at the company's store, where a loud speaker will be used. Even if the crowd should overflow into the street, the address can be heard there.

President Coolidge will speak in Washington on Monday evening, and his address will be broadcasted simultaneously from twenty-three stations. All other broadcasting stations have agreed to remain silent during that hour, it is said, so that the president's message will have the full use of the air. The exact hour of this speech has not as yet been decided upon, but will be announced soon.

The president's talk will be centered about a stirring appeal to the citizens of this country to exercise their voting franchise at the polls on Tuesday, according to advice from the national Republican committee.

The stations relaying this address extend from coast to coast, so that everyone, even in the most remote portions of the country, may have the privilege of hearing it.

Many local citizens will use their own receiving sets, but all who care to "listen in" at the Brainerd Electric Company's store will be welcome to do so.

TEXANS DROP THE SIX-GUN FOR THE FOILS

(By United Press)

Austin, Texas, Oct. 31.—Texas has become effete.

The six-shooter, once an essential accessory for both the social and the business costume of the well-dressed

Youths whose fathers learned to shoot with lethal accuracy are learning here at the University of Texas to "touch" and to parry thrusts. Fencing, that prime sport of the gentleman in polite and cultured ages, is being taught men here for the first time.

Melvin Williamson who has taught the ancient and refined sport in United States army camps and in the Hollywood Fencing School for motion picture performers, is in charge of the course. He declares that the motion picture has set a standard of manly poise and grace to which the modern youth aspires, and that this poise and grace, as well as co-ordination of hand and eye, and the suave imperturbability of the gentle, is easiest for those "well skilled in all tricks of fence."

So, instead of carrying a gun in both hands, as his grandfather did, the modern young Texan carries a light foil in his right, and rests his left hand lightly across the vertebrae which are located at the waistline. The chaps have given way to the tight velvet breeches and the long hose, here in the great open spaces.

COST OF EDUCATION INCREASES

THE cost of education is increasing daily. In fact, it has increased 97 per cent in ten years in Minnesota, according to authoritative figures compiled by State Auditor R. P. Chase.

Summarizing his report, one finds that the state last year raised $57,789,194 for educational purposes. Twenty years ago, in 1903, the amount raised for such educational purposes in Minnesota was $9,291,787, and in 1913, ten years later, the figures rose to $18,035,396.

Here is what contributed to the high costs and what is constantly adding to costs—increased cost of buildings, larger number of pupils, higher salaries to teachers and increased cost of labor and materials are given as some of the reasons why it costs more to educate children.

Other statistics given by State Auditor Chase are of interest. Ten years ago there were 8,943 schoolhouses in the state. Now there are 9,221. Ten years ago the school teachers paid salaries numbered 16,930 and they drew an average salary of $580 for the school year. Now there are 20,841 teachers and they are paid an average salary of $1,215.

The report shows further that of the more than $57,000,000 raised last year, $35,210,731 were collected by local special school taxes. Summing up the report one finds that schoolhouses are increasing in number, cost of building and maintenance is increasing, teachers' salaries are increasing, number of pupils are increasing. The crowded school situation is one that faces every community.

AN INDIVIDUAL CONTEST

L. B. KINDER, candidate for probate judge, complains that The Review was not fair last week in stating that he participated in the Republican delegate convention without stating also that he voted a Farmer-Labor ballot in the primary election.

We certainly do not wish to be unfair to Mr. Kinder. The record, as he gives it, seems to be about like this:

Voted for Magnus Johnson last year (so he informs us).

Participated in the Republican delegate convention this spring.

Voted a Farmer-Labor ballot in the Primaries.

We do not attempt to say where Mr. Kinder will align himself at the General election or afterwards and he did not state, but on the face of his own statement of his political maneuvers we feel that we were not unfair in saying that the probate judge contest does not lie between a Farmer-Labor candidate and a Republican, in spite of the fact that Mr. Kinder received large support from the Farmer-Labor supporters in the primary.

The contest is in fact a personal contest between Mr. Alderman and Mr. Kinder, with all the weight of experience and material judgment in Mr. Alderman's favor.—Pequot Review.

THIS FALL, SAYS

HEDDA HOYT

WOMEN MAKING A RUSH ON THE FUR SHOPS THIS FALL

SCHOOL GIRLS FAVOR RACCOON COATS OF TOMBOY TYPE

By HEDDA HOYT
(Fashion Editor of the United Press)
(Written for the United Press)
New York, N. Y., Oct. 31.—Women are all making a rush upon the fur shops these early fall days. Furs are being worn despite the fine weather. Short, jacquettes are appearing by the hundreds until it seems that every second woman must own one of these short fur affairs. Besides these jacquettes, there are numerous neckpieces and fur-trimmed coats and suits and scarcely any garment appears which is unfur-trimmed.

One is astonished at the popularity of the short jacket this year. It seemed as though we overplayed our hand on short jacquettes during the past two spring seasons, but they have bobbed into style again and are being worn by both matron and Miss. The 1924 jacquettes have earmarks of their own, however. Firstly, the fur itself marks them as new models and then the length is new. The latest jacquettes come just a little below the hips and are made of natural golden muskrat, leopard cat and brown dyed caracul or sheared lamb. Lengths of 32 or 34 inches are considered ultra smart these days.

Among the popular types of jacquettes one finds the natural weasel, which is a tannish and white-toned fur. Another popular jacquette is made of white cooney. The latter type is worn mostly by young girls. Summer ermine, collared in natural blue fox, is a lovely combination which several well dressed women are choosing.

Brown caracul is perhaps the most popular jacquette of the season, if one wishes to wear the most popular fur. Natural squirrel jacquettes are also coming into vogue again and these are popular with the young college Miss.

Raccoon Coats
Raccoon coats of tomboy type are being sold in numbers to school girls. These sport coats are good looking, youthful, warm and particularly well suited to the flapper of today. They are quite inexpensive.

Another inexpensive coat which is new and very attractive is made of natural muskrat which is a golden brown fur. Long coats of this fur are trimmed with a longer and darker haired pelt and are most attractive. These will appeal to the woman of limited means who prefers a good-looking coat to a model.

Brown dyed caracul is replacing seal this season, according to the furriers. Women are tiring of seal and want novelty furs. Some of these caraculs are trimmed at border and on collar and cuffs with fox or skunk or other long-haired furs. Sheared lamb is used in the same manner and is prettiest when dyed a brownish shade.

White ermine evening wraps will be as popular as they ever were. Furriers state that they cannot make them up fast enough to supply the demand. This season's ermine is untrimmed by tails and depends upon the manipulation of the tiny skins for its chic. Wraps and capes are a bit smarter than coats for evening wear this year.

How To Wear Neckpieces
Every woman wears some sort of a neckpiece this Fall, if her garment itself is not fur-trimmed. There are several new ways of wearing the fur-piece which will give one a smart appearance. First, the one animal skin, such as the fox, is worn wrapped tight about the throat with the tail hanging down the back. Two-skinned neckpieces are worn with one animal clasping tightly about the throat and the other animal hanging straight down the front. All furpieces are worn tight about the neck these days. Where a small animal is used, the furpiece clasps at the side with the tail extending down

MRS. JULIUS ROSENWALD

Mrs. Julius Rosenwald, prominent leader in Chicago civic and social affairs, will direct the efforts of Illinois, Indiana, Michigan and Wisconsin in the Girl Scout nation wide building and budget campaign for $501,028 which will be launched in a few weeks, it was announced today by Mrs. Herbert Hoover, president of the organization. Mary Roberts Finehart will be the national campaign chairman.

Mrs. Calvin Coolidge, honorary president of the Girl Scouts, Mrs. William H. Taft, Mrs. Theodore Roosevelt, Sr., Mrs. Woodrow Wilson and Mrs. T. J. Preston, Jr., honorary vice presidents, are among those sponsoring the campaign.

"Buy a brick for American Girlhood" is the message the Girl Scouts will carry to every corner of the country. The bricks will cost ten dollars each, and there will be 50,103 for sale. The money will be used for a much needed new headquarters building and for next year's budget.

the back. The off-the-shoulder manner of wearing neckpieces is entirely out of style. Small animal pieces are much more in demand than larger ones this year. Fisher and fitch are furs which are seen repeatedly.

Odd Trimming Notes
Summer ermine collared in badger is one of the new combinations.

Huge Hudson stoles which extend to the hem of the garment may be bordered all around with a narrow band of fitch, where one wishes to make odd bits of old fur into a 1924 model.

Hudson seal jacquettes collared and cuffed in weasel is also attractive and new in appearance.

One can combine almost any furs these days. We see brown furs trimmed in tan or gray. White furs trimmed in leopard, seal, mink, etc., and other combinations which were formerly unheard of.

* HALLOWE'EN GAMES *

Guess Who
Put a sheet across a doorway and have the boys, one at a time, show their feet below the sheet. The girls, on the other side of the door, must guess who it is.

The girls must now slip their hands through a hole in the sheet and this time the boys must guess the owners of the hands.

Slicing Flour
Fill a medium size bowl with flour and press down compactly. Turn it out on a square board on the middle of the table. On the top of the mound place a ring, very lightly. The idea is to slice away the flour without disturbing the ring. Each one in turn takes the broad bladed knife and removes a thin slice of flour. The person unlucky enough to knock down the ring must extract it from the flour heap with his teeth.

Fortune Telling
In a tub of water launch little half walnut-shell boats, each one with the name of a boy or girl written on it. Stand in the center of each boat a tiny lighted candle. If two boats float together, those persons will surely marry. If the lights burn brightly their lives will be happy and unadventurous.

The Tom Cat Game
This game can be played exactly like the old Donkey Game. Cut out a large black cat, minus his tail, from a sheet of black paper. Paste this on a large sheet of white or orange paper and hang on the wall at a height that can be reached by all the players. Cut strips of any kind of black paper or cloth, enough to give each player one, with a pin stuck through the end. These strips act as tails. Each player is blindfolded and turned around a few times, and is told to pin the tail as close as possible to where it belongs on the Tom Cat. The one who goes nearest, of course, wins the game. A new rendition of an old game with which you can have lots of fun.

Crowds Grow Each Night to See Auger Bros. Stock Co.

The capacity of the Park theatre was tested last night at the fourth performance of the Auger Bros. Stock Co., when they presented "The Call of the Heart," a serious drama by Leta Vance, dealing with heredity and the life of the nobility of Europe. It was the heaviest drama yet attempted by this clever company and more solidly impressed upon the audience the ability of the performers. Never has a troupe received so much favorable comment from the townspeople as the Auger Brothers are receiving. Only the most commendable expressions are heard, and it seems that the company is assured a place in the city's amusement field for years to come.

One of the big features of the Auger Brothers is the high grade of vaudeville offered between acts. The extra bit of value is immensely enjoyed by all, for the acts are applauded vigorously.

Tonight the company will present "The Girl From Out Yonder," a story of the New England fisher people. Mr. Auger states that the play is

PUBLIC SCHOOLS

DURING OCTOBER

Nearly 2100 Pupils Reported Enrolled Since Opening in September

HIGH SCHOOL ABOUT 500

Nearly 1600 Pupils Enrolled in Grades of All Schools Since September 1

(By W. C. Cobb, Superintendent of City Schools)

The city schools have enrolled nearly 2100 pupils since the opening in September. The high school has almost reached the five hundred mark and, including the normal training department, has exceeded five hundred already. The number of pupils enrolled in the high school building since September lacks only four of being six hundred pupils. If anyone is in doubt as to whether the present high school building is up to full capacity or beyond at the present time, we think his doubts would be removed if a few minutes were spent in the hallways during the passing of classes, which occurs every forty-five minutes.

Over 500 pupils have been enrolled in the Lowell district, which includes the Garfield school. In round numbers nearly 1600 pupils have been enrolled in the grades of all the schools since September first.

Three members of the state department of education have visited the schools already this year. E. W. Everts, director of physical education, D. M. Schweickhard, director of industrial education, and M. L. Jacobson, rural school inspector.

The directed physical training work, which is being carried on at all of the schools, including the high school, and which during the fall months is largely out of door work in the form of directed play, is a part of the general state program that is expected and required of all schools and provided for by act of the state legislature. We mention this fact in order that citizens may know that this physical and recreational program is not a fad of our local school but is in accordance with a very complete course of physical training and health work that the state has provided and distributed complete manuals for the guidance of all schools.

Next week, November 6, 7, and 8, the State Teachers' Association will be held in St. Paul and a considerable delegation from the Brainerd schools will attend as usual.

An evening class for foreigners who are interested in learning the English language and preparing for citizenship was started recently at the high school building and will meet on Tuesday and Thursday evening the same as last year. Up to the present time twenty-nine persons have enrolled for this evening school and there is every indication that more will follow. As soon as the number warrants, an additional teacher will be provided.

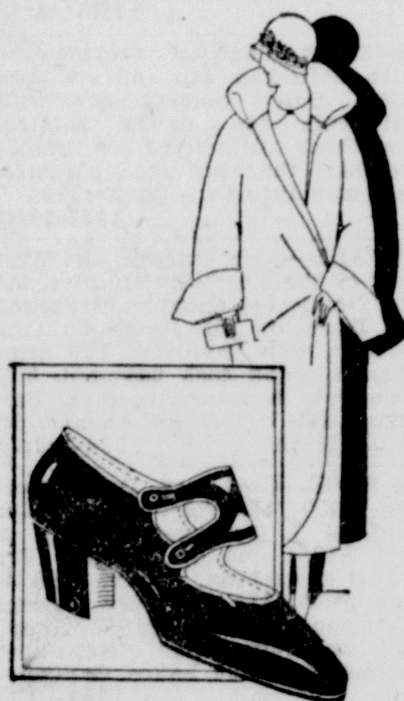

The school sheet, the Brainonain, is starting out under very favorable auspices and the issues thus far reflect credit on the editorial staff for the time and care exercised in making this weekly page on school news something really worth while.

The Parent-Teachers organizations in all sections of the city are getting started on their yearly programs of earnest and helpful cooperation looking toward the betterment of educational conditions in Brainerd. These organizations have been a positive force for good and have helped the schools in a practical way that has been felt and appreciated by teachers and citizens generally. Throughout the state and the nation at large they are becoming the moulders of educational sentiment and the first line of defense against educational retrogression and reaction.

In the high school, the student body has been divided up into comparatively small groups with a faculty adviser whose duty it is to keep posted concerning the scholarship marks as well as general conduct and try to correct unsatisfactory student work. Parents would do well to learn who these group advisers are and work with them in their efforts toward improvement.

SPOOKS

Hallowe'en is the heyday of the supernatural. It is the time when spooks and witches and the like are supposed to "cut loose."

Some folks are pursued throughout the year by spooky fears. They are haunted by a constant dread of what the next moment, the next day, or the next year may bring forth.

These folks are not the ones who make it a point to see that part of each month's income goes into a permanent bank account. There's mighty little to be afraid of if you keep a growing account in this strong bank!

"Oldest State Bank in Crow Wing County"

L. B. Kinder for Probate Judge

To the Voters of Crow Wing County:—

Of all the offices to be filled this fall that of Probate Judge most closely affects your home. For he is the Judge of the Juvenile Court and has charge of the probating of your estate when you are gone.

As for my qualifications:—For seven years I have actively practised law in Brainerd; am thoroughly experienced in Probate Law and procedure, and in hearty sympathy with Juvenile Court work. Am an active man in the prime of life, physically able to properly carry on both branches of this important office. Have served as Special Municipal Judge of Brainerd. For the past five years have been agent for Bank of Glencoe noted among Crow Wing County farmers for its low interest rates and fair dealings. In addition to having charge of loans from $110,000 to $115,000, I have as a lawyer examined the titles of the farms involved; and probate proceedings form a link in nearly every chain of title. Judge Sanborn, himself, paid me the compliment of employing me to examine title. Indeed, those best acquainted with my work deem it the best possible training for the Probate Judgeship.

You will note that I am not asking your support on the ground that I need the office and am a good fellow. This is the last office in the state in which to put a "good fellow"—the office should be filled by a man who will capably and fearlessly protect your family.

If you don't know me, won't you for your family's sake investigate me? My record is open to all: for nineteen years—at Brainerd and Bay Lake—I have resided in Crow Wing County. You are careful to select a competent lawyer to examine title to your home and draw your will. You are careful to select a safe bank for your savings. But what will this avail your family if you are careless in the selection of your Probate Judge?

Vote for a man who will protect your family when you are gone.

Respectfully yours,

PUBLIC SCHOOLS DURING OCTOBER

Nearly 2100 Pupils Reported Enrolled Since Opening in September

HIGH SCHOOL ABOUT 500

Nearly 1600 Pupils Enrolled in Grades of All Schools Since September 1

(By W. C. Cobb, Superintendent of City Schools)

The city schools have enrolled nearly 2100 pupils since the opening in September. The high school has almost reached the five hundred mark and, including the normal training department, has exceeded five hundred already. The number of pupils enrolled in the high school building since September lacks only four of being six hundred pupils. If anyone is in doubt as to whether the present high school building is up to full capacity or beyond at the present time, we think his doubts would be removed if a few minutes were spent in the hallways during the passing of classes, which occurs every forty-five minutes.

Over 500 pupils have been enrolled in the Lowell district, which includes the Garfield school. In round numbers nearly 1600 pupils have been enrolled in the grades of all the schools since September first.

Three members of the state department of education have visited the schools already this year. E. W. Everts, director of physical education, D. M. Schweickhard, director of industrial education, and M. L. Jacobson, rural school inspector.

The directed physical training work, which is being carried on at all of the schools, including the high school, and which during the fall months is largely out of door work in the form of directed play, is a part of the general state program that is expected and required of all schools and provided for by act of the state legislature. We mention this fact in order that citizens may know that this physical and recreational program is not a fad of our local school but is in accordance with a very complete course of physical training and health work that the state has provided and distributed complete manuals for the guidance of all schools.

Next week, November 6, 7, and 8, the State Teachers' Association will be held in St. Paul and a considerable delegation from the Brainerd schools will attend as usual.

An evening class for foreigners who are interested in learning the English language and preparing for citizenship was started recently at the high school building and will meet on Tuesday and Thursday evening the same as last year. Up to the present time twenty-nine persons have enrolled for this evening school and there is every indication that more will follow. As soon as the number warrants, an additional teacher will be provided.

The school sheet, the Brainerdian, is starting out under very favorable auspices and the issues thus far reflect credit on the editorial staff for the time and care exercised in making this weekly page on school news something really worth while.

SATURDAY A BIG DAY ON THE GRIDIRON

By HENRY L. FARRELL
(United Press Sports Editor)

New York, Oct. 31.—With all the interesting and exciting preliminary formalities ended last week, the football season will get into heavy action tomorrow with a schedule filled with a flock of banner attractions. With the exception of a very few games, where varsity teams are taking a rest before a severe test next week, every game on the schedule rates as a feature attraction. Hundreds of thousands of fans will fill to capacity all the great stadiums of the country.

Ranking as the feature game of the schedule because of its spectacular trimmings and its promise of hard, if not perfect football, is the Army-Yale game at New Haven. For the third time the game will fill the huge Yale bowl to its capacity of 75,000. The demand for tickets was so great that all the tickets were sold more than two weeks ago and none were offered to the public.

After visiting the West, seeing Western football and hearing Western football fans, it seems a waste of words to say that all the good games will not be played in the East tomorrow. From a Western angle it would be more to the point to say that a few good games are to be played in the East.

As a matter of fact the West tomorrow has all the bulk of the games with intersectional flavor and with neighborhood importance.

Two big intersectional games are on the card. Georgia Tech, one of the leading standard bearers of the South, comes to South Bend to meet Notre Dame and repay the visit that Notre Dame paid last year. Relations have always been so cordial between these two teams that they have become almost permanent fixtures on their schedules. There are some reasons why the Notre Dame team should not be popular in Atlanta and it is a tribute to the sportsmanship that football develops not only among the players but among the spectators that the relations of these two teams have always been so friendly.

Another intersectional contest that has become rather regular will be played in Detroit when Washington and Jefferson, one of the leading teams of the East, plays the University of Detroit.

Two very important games will feature the "Big Ten" competition. Michigan plays Minnesota at Minneapolis, and Illinois meets Iowa at Urbana. Chicago meets Purdue in another interesting game, if not as important.

Ohio State has a breather game against Wooster and Wisconsin getting ready for the Notre Dame game next week, has an off-day.

Nebraska's game against Missouri will feature the Missouri Valley schedule. Kansas plays Washington at St. Louis.

With Georgia Tech away from home fields the big Southern games will be between Vanderbilt and Auburn at Nashville and between Alabama and Mississippi at Montgomery.

California and Southern California will play the big game of the Pacific Coast conference at Berkeley. Stanford is idle.

B. H. S. AND Y.

IN FOUR RACES,
TEAMS OF 5 EACHPROSPECTS FOR THE CONTEST
ARE NOW BEING
GROOMEDFINAL RACE TO BE CROSS-COUNTRY
EVEN ON THANKSGIVING DAY

The Brainerd high school has accepted the local Y. M. C. A.'s challenge to four races, and prospects for both teams are being groomed for the contest which opens with a half-mile race on next Wednesday afternoon, and closes with a five-mile heat on Thanksgiving morning.

Each team will consist of five men, and will need to be picked from a good list of distance runners. The first three races will be staged at Gregory park, on the path around the square. This path has been measured and found to be just a half mile in length. The final race on Thanksgiving day will be a cross-country event, and promises to fan up plenty of excitement.

The first race on Wednesday will be a half-mile contest. A week later, on Wednesday, November 12th, the race will be one mile in length, twice around Gregory Park. On Wednesday, November 19th, the race will be made more difficult by being lengthened to two miles, or four times around the park, and will be the final preliminary for the big event on Thanksgiving morning.

MINNESOTA

MAY HAVE NEW
MEN ON LINEGORDON FISHER IS REPORTED
SHOWING ABILITY AT
ENDMICHIGAN INSTALLED AS THE
FAVORITE AT ODDS OF
2 TO 1

George A. Barton, sports editor of the Minneapolis Tribune, writes as follows of the coming Michigan-Minnesota game:

Michigan has been installed favorite at odds of 2 to 1 over Minnesota in their football game at Northrop field Saturday afternoon. Bettors also are offering even money that the Wolverines will beat the Gophers by a margin of 8 points.

The Gophers, for the first time this season, are entering a game short-handed in the betting. Perhaps this presages well for Minnesota for they were 10 to 7 favorites over Wisconsin and were held to a tie, and were on the long end of 10 to 8 betting to beat Iowa only to be defeated. As shortenders upset the dope regularly in football, followers of the Minnesota team hope they will acquire the habit against Michigan tomorrow.

The Minnesota mentor is still in a quandary regarding right end, but at present writing Chuck Morris appears to have the call over the other candidates. The lanky young athlete was kept at the outpost for a long period Wednesday night, though Gordon Fisher, Bob Williams and Freddie Just also were given tryouts. Fisher displayed marked ability at the position and may be afforded a chance to perform against the Wolverines.

Spaulding is depending chiefly among the line-plunging ability of Carl Lidberg and Clarence Schutte to beat Michigan, but probably will vary his attack with an overhead offense that may surprise the invaders from Ann Arbor. Along with Herman Ascher, Schutte and Lidberg are being depended upon to break up Michigan's passing attack and to stop the end-running of such speedy backs as Steger, Rockwell and Friedman.

Malcolm Graham has returned to the form that made him one of the best open field runners in the conference last year and he is expected to see service in Saturday's game either at halfback or his old position at quarter. Minnesota's coaches are discouraged by the showing of Bob Peplaw in practice this week. He did not look any more impressive in Wednesday's workout than he did on Monday and Tuesday. Spaulding fears Peplaw will be of little good to him in the coming encounter.

Minnesota's forwards will be called upon to oppose one of the most powerful lines in the Big Ten Saturday. Edwards and Babcock, tackles; Slaughter and Hawkins, guards; and Brown, center, are the luminaries in the Wolverine line, although Yost also boasts of three sterling ends in Miller, Flora and Grube.

More evidence in support of the belief that the Gophers will depend largely on its smashing type of attack against Michigan Saturday was given during the course of a vigorous practice session Wednesday devoted almost entirely to scrimmage.

Satisfied as to the worth of Carl Lidberg and Clarence Schutte as line smashers, Coach Bill Spaulding called them out of the lineup early in the session and inserted Lloyd Peterson and Everett Van Duzee, two reserve ball carriers whose strongest asset is vicious plunging, into the backfield. There they stayed for the balance of the session, carrying the brunt of the Gopher attack and penetrating the freshmen line at almost any spot for consistent yardage.

Coach Spaulding announced yesterday J. C. Masker of Northwestern university would referee tomorrow's game. J. J. Schommer of Chicago will umpire, with R. F. McCord of Illinois acting as field judge and J. J. Lipsky of Chicago head linesman.

The Michigan football squad will arrive in Minneapolis at 10 o'clock this morning over the Milwaukee railroad. The Wolverines will practice in Minnesota's Stadium early this afternoon.

Moving Worries Bryans

(By United Press)

Lincoln, Neb., Oct. 31.—The main issue of the national and state campaigns for Mrs. Charles W. Bryan is moving. Regardless of the outcome of the elections the wife of the vice presidential nominee on the democratic ticket must move from the executive mansion to make room for the incoming gubernatorial family. It is likely the Bryans will make their home here in any event.

BRAINERD HIGH
TO MEET AITKIN
HERE SATURDAYVISITORS WILL HAVE AN UNUSUALLY HEAVY TEAMBRAINERD CARRYING ON HARD PRACTICE TO REACH TOP
FORM

Saturday, Nov. 1st, the Brainerd High School football team will meet the Aitkin High eleven at the local field at 3 p. m.

Although this is the first time in several years that Aitkin has had a football team they have developed so that they expect to give Brainerd a good battle. They have an unusually heavy team for a high school aggregation, and by the experience gained this will put a formidable team on the field next year.

Brainerd through hard practice is now at the height of their form and are ready to match their speed and experience against Aitkin's weight.

This will be a game worth seeing, and it is hoped that a large number of fans will be present to support the local boys, this being the last home game of the season.

Burns Vice President and Luella Brassard Secretary.

NOTRE DAME SCORING FIRST OF TWO TOUCHDOWNS WHICH
WHITWASHED PRINCETON BY SCORE OF 12 TO 0

Crowley, left halfback, was the star of Notre Dame's star backfield in the game against Princeton. He picked his opening with uncanny accuracy and broke the grips of three or four tackles a dozen times. The above photograph shows the play in which he carried the ball across the line for the first touchdown. In the fourth period the ball was taken to Princeton's 10 yard line and Crowley, making another of his savage rushes, dodged one Tiger player, after another until he planted the ball behind the goal line.

SQUIRE EDGEATE—How Can He Forget?

SATURDAY A BIG DAY ON THE GRIDIRON

By HENRY L. FARRELL
(United Press Sports Editor)

New York, Oct. 31.—With all the interesting and exciting preliminary formalities ended last week, the football season will get into heavy action tomorrow with a schedule filled with a flock of banner attractions. With the exception of a very few games, where varsity teams are taking a rest before a severe test next week, every game on the schedule rates as a feature attraction. Hundreds of thousands of fans will fill to capacity all the great stadiums of the country.

Ranking as the feature game of the schedule because of its spectacular trimmings, and its promise of hard, if not perfect football, is the Army-Yale game at New Haven. For the third time the game will fill the huge Yale bowl to its capacity of 75,000. The demand for tickets was so great that all the tickets were sold more than two weeks ago and none were offered to the public.

After visiting the West, seeing Western football and hearing Western football fans, it seems a waste of words to say that all the good games will not be played in the East tomorrow. From a Western angle it would be more to the point to say that a few good games are to be played in the East.

As a matter of fact the West tomorrow has all the bulk of the games with intersectional flavor and with neighborhood importance.

Two big intersectional games are on the card. Georgia Tech, one of the leading standard bearers of the South, comes to South Bend to meet Notre Dame and repay the visit that Notre Dame paid last year. Relations have always been so cordial between these two teams that they have become almost permanent fixtures on their schedules. There are some reasons why the Notre Dame team should not be popular in Atlanta and it is a tribute to the sportsmanship that football develops not only among the players but among the spectators that the relations of these two teams have always been so friendly.

Another intersectional contest that has become rather regular will be played in Detroit when Washington and Jefferson, one of the leading teams of the East, plays the University of Detroit.

Two very important games will feature the "Big Ten" competition. Michigan plays Minnesota at Minneapolis, and Illinois meets Iowa at Urbana. Chicago meets Purdue in another interesting game, if not as important.

Ohio State has a breather game against Wooster and Wisconsin getting ready for the Notre Dame game next week, has an off-day.

Nebraska's game against Missouri will feature the Missouri Valley schedule. Kansas plays Washington at St. Louis.

With Georgia Tech away from home fields the big Southern games will be between Vanderbilt and Auburn at Nashville and between Alabama and Mississippi at Montgomery.

California and Southern California will play the big game of the Pacific Coast conference at Berkeley. Stanford is idle.

MINNESOTA

MAY HAVE NEW
MEN ON LINEGORDON FISHER IS REPORTED
SHOWING ABILITY AT
FAVORITE AT ODDS OF
2 TO 1

George A. Barton, sports editor of the Minneapolis Tribune, writes as follows of the coming Michigan-Minnesota game:

Michigan has been installed favorite at odds of 2 to 1 over Minnesota in their football game at Northport field Saturday afternoon. Bettors also are offering even money that the Wolverines will beat the Gophers by a margin of 8 points.

The Gophers, for the first time this season, are entering a game short-enders in the betting. Perhaps this presages well for Minnesota for they were 10 to 7 favorites over Wisconsin and were held to a tie, and were on the long end of 10 to 8 betting to beat Iowa only to be defeated. As short-enders upset the dope regularly in football, followers of the Minnesota team hope they will acquire the habit against Michigan tomorrow.

The Minnesota mentor is still in a quandary regarding right end, but at present writing Chuck Morris appears to have the call over the other candidates. The lanky young athlete was kept at the outpost for a long period Wednesday night, though Gordon Fisher, Bob Williams and Freddie Just also were given tryouts. Fisher displayed marked ability at the position and may be afforded a chance to perform against the Wolverines.

Spaulding is depending chiefly among the line-plunging ability of Carl Lidberg and Clarence Schutte to beat Michigan, but probably will vary his attack with an overhead offense that may surprise the invaders from Ann Arbor. Along with Herman Ascher, Schutte and Lidberg are being depended upon to break up Michigan's passing attack and to stop the end-running of such speedy backs as Steger, Rockwell and Friedman.

Malcolm Graham has returned to the form that made him one of the best open field runners in the conference last year and he is expected to see service in Saturday's game either at halfback or his old position at quarter. Minnesota's coaches are discouraged by the showing of Bob Peplaw in practice this week. He did not look any more impressive in Wednesday's workout than he did on Monday and Tuesday. Spaulding fears Peplaw will be of little good to him in the coming encounter.

Minnesota's forwards will be called upon to oppose one of the most powerful lines in the Big Ten Saturday. Edwards and Babcock, tackles; Slaughter and Hawkins, guards; and Brown, center, are the luminaries in the Wolverine line, although Yost also boasts of three sterling ends in Miller, Flora and Grube.

More evidence in support of the belief that the Gophers will depend largely on its smashing type of attack against Michigan Saturday was given during the course of a vigorous practice session Wednesday devoted almost entirely to scrimmage.

Satisfied as to the worth of Carl Lidberg and Clarence Schutte as line smashers, Coach Bill Spaulding called them out of the lineup early in the session and inserted Lloyd Peterson and Everett Van Duzee, two reserve ball carriers whose strongest asset is vicious plunging, into the backfield. There they stayed for the balance of the session, carrying the brunt of the Gopher attack and penetrating the freshmen line at almost any spot for consistent yardage.

Coach Spaulding announced yesterday J. C. Masker of Northwestern university would referee tomorrow's game. J. J. Schommer of Chicago will umpire, with R. F. McCord of Illinois acting as field judge and J. J. Lipsky of Chicago head linesman.

The Michigan football squad will arrive in Minneapolis at 10 o'clock this morning over the Milwaukee railroad. The Wolverines will practice in Minnesota's Stadium early this afternoon.

Moving Worries Bryans

Lincoln, Neb., Oct. 31.—The main issue of the national and state campaigns for Mrs. Charles W. Bryan is moving. Regardless of the outcome of the elections the wife of the vice presidential nominee on the democratic ticket must move from the executive mansion to make room for the incoming gubernatorial family. It is likely the Bryans will make their home here in any event.

Although this is the first time in several years that Aitkin has had a football team they have developed so that they expect to give Brainerd a good battle. NOTRE DAME SCORING FIRST OF TWO TOUCHDOWNS WHICH
WHITWASHED PRINCETON BY SCORE OF 12 TO 0

In the fourth period the ball was taken to Princeton's 10 yard line and Crowley, making another of his savage rushes, dodged one Tiger player, after another until he planted the ball behind the goal line.
